CORRESPONDENCE.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Casey Cullings.

Success to THE HERALD and its many readers.

Wm. Wells, who was reported on the sick list last week, is some better at this writing.

R. E. Candill went to Torrent Monday on business, and reports the roads as being in bad condition.

D. G. Lacy, deputy United States marshal, returned from Louisville court last week and said Jackson Peyton, charged with distilling, was acquitted, and Harry Terrill convicted for the same offence.

NED.

West Liberty Notes.
Stock men are plentiful in this section. Several droves of hogs left for the market last week.

Harry Terrill, formerly of Wolfe county, was convicted last week for moonshining in the federal court at Louisville.

Rev. James Wheeler, of Camby, who has been "waiting" on the federal court at Louisville for several days has returned. He was much pleased with his trip.

Mrs. Polly McClure and Mrs. Granville Haney (nee Miss Clark Quicksall), of Grassy, have been very ill but are now convalescent. Mrs. McClure is very old and her ultimate recovery is doubtful.

West Liberty leads all the mountain towns in the number of daily papers read by her citizens. They are served fresh from the press (only 36 hours old) by no less than a dozen newsboys, who tear their throats and rend the air yelling some sensational news item.

The Courier-Journal, Louisville and Cincinnati Posts, Cincinnati Enquirer and Times-Star, Chicago Ledger, World and Blade, besides some New York journals, are sold every night. The newsboy craze, it is thought, will not last long, but it is worked for all that's in it at present. The boys are not specially troubled with their revenue, but some make as high as two bits a week.

The Mormons have been preaching here a few days. They left on the 5th inst. Some like the way they talk while others did not. I never had the pleasure or the displeasure of hearing them.

John Bartley contracted the farm belonging to S. A. Bartley and heirs, lying on the upper Long branch, to Kelsey H. Murphy for the sum of $700, money to be paid when a decree is obtained from the court to sell the estate of the infant heirs and a deed is made to the land.

J. M. Murphy, justice peace of Morgan county, held his court at Ezel on the 6th inst. Quite a crowd was in attendance. County Attorney L. W. Rose and W. B. Lykins, of West Liberty, Rollin Kash, of Hazel Green, and ye scribe constituted the bar. Several cases of interest were tried. Jerry is a good magistrate and knows his business.

DE JESSE.

Is Your Name Written There?
We have commenced the pruning process on our subscription list, and will continue to drop off all names not paid up until we clear it of all delinquents. Pay up at once if you want the paper to come to you. There is $500 or $600 due this office on subscriptions, and we must have the money to continue business. Examine the date following your name, and if not paid up, PLEASE do so at once. We need money badly.

I have arranged to keep as much of the traveling public as desire to stop with me. Sample rooms for commercial men. One door west of postoffice. Respectfully,
MRS. ELLEN KASH.
